Twenty-Third Year, No. 41 — Nevada City (Nevada County) California, Friday, October 6, 1950

RECALL OF NID DIRECTORS FAIL DECISIVELY

Max P. Arnold and Herbert Nile, directors of the 260,000 acre Nevada Irrigation District successfully defended their seats on the directorate Tuesday against two recall candidates to climax the county's hottest campaign of recent years.

Arnold, chairman of the board and representing the section of Grass Valley defeated Clarence Gassaway, Bear Valley rancher 259 to 191.

Nile, who represents the district around Nevada City and between Nevada City and Grass Valley defeated C. O. Armstrong, president of the county farm bureau federation by a 515 to 301 vote.

Nile and Arnold were supported by the NID association and Gassaway and Armstrong were endorsed by the NID landowners association. The latter organization called the recall election after Nile and Arnold, joined with Direstor J. H. Gleason in a move to fire Forrest Varney, district manager. Varney was ousted Sept. 8 over the opposition of G. O. Griffith and E. B. Power, the other two members of the five-man board.

The Arnold, Nile and Gleason faction have accused Varney of mismanaging the district and failing to advise the directors of actions in the district.

Griffith and Power, supported by the landowner group, contended the district with facilities valued at more than $12,000,000 needs a full time manager. The other three contend the NID can be managed by the directors with the aid of an office manager and a construction superintendent.

The torrid district feud which has raged here for nearly a year flared into fisticuffs Friday night when Nile and C. W. Pomeroy, landowner from Lincoln, Placer county swung blows briefly. The two were pulled apart however before damage was done. Tre flareup was the climax of a mass meeting called by the Nevada Irrigation District Landowners Association in the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, Grass Valley.

The meeting was the last of a series of mass gatherings before the recall election.

The Nile-Pomeroy fistic exchange followed a sharp verbal clash in which Pomeroy claimed Nile had told him Nevada county water should be kept in Nevada county. Both shouted "damn liar" at each other and the fight was on.

C. J. Rolph, chairman of the landowners association and presiding over the stormy session, succeeded in restoring order and urged all speakers to use moderate language and to address their remarks through the chairman.

COUNTY REAPPRAISAL WORK STARTS MONDAY

The first program of appraisal and equalization of Nevada county property in the 100 years of Nevada county's existence will be underway Monday, according to Phil Scadden, assessor.

Four appraisers, Verne Gullickson, Stephen Dolan, John Filler, all of Nevada City, and Les Cicogni, Grass Valley, will take the field armed with instructions received from Clyde Kelly, Sacramento agent of the state board of equalization.

James Simms, also of the state bureau, has been giving additional training to the appraisers.

Scadden said the appraisers will not evalue the property. The assessment and valuation is done at the office from the field men's reports.

The Nugget carried a complete analysis of the program in its Sept. 15 edition.

VETERAN UNION EDITOR BREAKS LEG IN TUMBLE

Edmund G. Kinyon, the grand old man of Nevada county journalism, a 40-year veteran of the Union staff, fractured his leg in a fall Saturday evening.

The leg was fractured just above the knee and Wednesday attending physicians at Jones Memorial hospital placed a pin through the fractured bone.

BOARD CALLS FOR ELECTION IN SCHOOL ANNEX

Nevada county supervisors late Friday called an election to determine whether residents of the Gold Flat district near Nevada City wish to annex thee area to the Grass Valley high school district.

The petition for the annexation election was presented by the Grass Valley high school trustees. Under school law it is mandatory on the supervisors to call the election if the district asking the vote is serving three or more students from the section in which the ballotting is to be conducted.

Durng the past year the Grass Valley high school has enrolled 11 students from the Gold Flat district which has an elementary school but no high school.

The proposed annexation, if successful, would affect only high school htudents and would have no effect on the elementary progrom.

Mrs. Harry March, clerk of the Gold Flat board, reported the annexation of the district for high school education purposes would materially reduce school taxes in the district, with property owners paying only a high school tax and being relieved of the tuition costs of sending students from tne district to Grass Valley and Nevada City high schools.

The date of the election expected to be in December will be announced by Walter A. Carlson, county school superintendent.

The group seeking annexation to the Grass Valley School District pointed out it was not feasable to join the Nevada City unified school district which has both an elementary school and high school. Such a move would virtually mean the death of the Gold Flat elementary school which would become a part of the Nevada City elementary system.

In another action the board declined to approve an annexation application for a portion of the Gold Flat area to become part of the Nevada City district. The application was made by a group of residents who claimed they did not want their children attending Grass Valley high school four miles away when the Nevada City high school was only a few blocks away.

The local school situation is further complicated by the fact that a county committee for school organization recently voted unanimously to call an election next summer to establish a union high school to serve Grass Valley, Nevada City and Western Nevada county.

In another action the supervisors voted to appropriate $1,000 for the Nevada county centennial celebration to be held at Grass Valley Oct. 27, 28 and 29.

Program for the three-day celebration will include a football game, pageant, historical variety show, contest, and a parade. The affair is being arranged by civic and fraternal organizations of the county.

The board also adopted a resolution which will set in motion machinery to place 10 miles of the Tyler road, from Highway 49 to North Columbia, into the Federal Aid secondary road system.

Saturday Oct. 23 was set as the tentative date for the next meeting of the board.

LOEHR IS CHAIRMAN OF SUPERVISORS

Henry G. Loehr, Truckee, supervisor of the fifth district, was named chairman of the Nevada county board of supervisors Friday, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Supervisor Waren Odell Sept. 10.

Loehr was elected unanimously on a second ballot. He has been a member of the board since 1944.

Frank Rowe, supervisor of the second district was acting chairman of the board during Odell's last illness.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL MEET TODAY

Nevada County Republican Central Committee will meet at 1:30 p. m. today in the justice court here to prepare for the final month's campaign before the Nov. 7 general election, according to Chairman Douglas Barrett, Truckee.

Plans will also be made to welcome Assemblyman Laughlin Waters, Los Angeles, vice chairman of the Republican state general committee, who will be in Grass Valley at noon Wednesday, to discuss the campaign with workers and voters of the county.

Meanwhile, Barrett has announced the appointment of Philip L. Personeni, Rough and Ready, as a member of the central committee to fill a vacancy in the fourth supervisorial district.

"It is our intention to have a full committee of Republican leaders in all sections of the county before the 1952 primary," Barrett said. There are still two vacancies on the committee, one each in the third and fourth supervisorial districts.

WILLOW VALLEY MINES HOLD OUTDOOR STEW

President J. M. Hoff and Secretary George V. Pettigrew of the Willow Valley Mines were hosts Sunday to stockholders and employees and their families at an outdoor campstew on the site of the old Jesse Lyons place in Willow Valley.

The stew was prepared by Supt. and Mrs. Carl Tobiassen, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams. More than sixty people were in attendance.

Work is progressing at the Bellefountain shaft, where a new headframe and a modern electric hoist has been installed. New equipment is on the ground and will be placed as the work progresses.

The Willow Valley holdings now embrace an area of about 360 acres along a proven lode area of east-west vein structure which has laid dormant for the past 47 years and upon which practically no development in depth has ever been made.

RUNWAY STUDY WILL DETERMINE AIRPORT PLANS

Councilman H. J. Ray last night was authorized to call an immediate survey to determine feasibility of a 5,000-foot runway at the municipal airport.

The authorization followed a discussion of the airport in which Mayor Thomas Taylor said it will be necessary for Nevada City to prove it has a better potential port than the Loma Rira port if it is to receive federal financial aid.

Councilman Ray who also is head of the airport commission said considerable hangar improvement had already been finished and that materials will be purchased soon for construction of restrooms. Ray also asked that grading work be done on the airport road.

The council also approved a request of Olaf Bjornstal, commander of Banner Mountain post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to turf and improve the area adjacent to the veterans' monument at Pioneer park.

Purchase of 146 feet of 12 inch steel sewer pipe for the line which crosses Deer Creek below the city, was authorized.

In a brief traffic study the city council recommended no parking at Peterson's service station and the Methodist church on upper Broad street; no parking on South Pine Street between the bridge and Spring Street. The group will study possibility of parking regulations on Bridge Street near the Purity Store and removal of parking meters from Union Alley.

Recommendation for the various traffic studies in both the business and residential sections of the city were made by Police Chief J. J. Jackson. He said he would have additional recommendations at the next regular council session.

RECORD TIMBER CUT IN TAHOE FOREST

Timber cut in Tahoe national forest during the current fiscal year will total more than sixty million board feet and will nearly double the 32 million feet cut in 1947.

The cutting estimates were announced here this week by Robert E. Dasmann, assistant forest supervisor.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1950, only nine million feet were cut.

Dasmann attributed the greatly increased timber harvest to both enlarged demand and to current use of various fir lumbers not previously in large demand.

The official said the figures were solely harvest figures and did not include additional thousands of feet of timber sold by the government for cutting at later dates. The figure also does not include timber cut on private lands within the forest.

Twenty-five per cent of these lumber revenues in national forests go to the counties in proportion to the amount of land they have in the forest.

WASHINGTON FRACAS ENDS IN DISMISSAL

A charge of assault with deadly weapon, filed against Arthur D. Sharp, a lumber worker, was dismissed by Justice of the Peace George W. Gildersleeve, on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Sharp had been held in county jail here since a week ago Wednesday in connection with the shooting of Jack McGovern, in Washington.

White Stag Manufacturing Co., a Washington corporation, filed a complaint Friday in Nevada county superior court against Virgil C. Jones, askinging judgment for $1,454.38, alleged to be for unpaid open account, $147.06 interest and costs. Vernon Stoll, Grass Valley, is attorney for the plaintiff.

CITY TAXES WILL BE DELINQUENT MONDAY

Taxes unpaid by 5 p.m., Monday, will be delinquent, according to City Tax Collector Sam Hooper.

Hooper warned all property owners who have not paid their taxes that a ten percent penalty will be assessed all taxes that become delinquent.

MRS. BOLTON IS OWNER OF OLD BEEHIVE STORE

The building housing Bond's Appliance Store, 244 Commercial street, was purchased this week by Mrs. Eleanor Bolton, Nevada City, she announced yesterday.

The building is a landmark of Commercial street and dates from the 1860s. For generations it housed the Beehive Grocery, operated by J. J. Jackson, and his son, J. J. Jackson, now chief of police of Nevada City.

Mrs. Bolton announced that she will be accupying the space by the end of the month.

She has operated a variety store in Nevada City for 27 years on Pine street and in the present location.

Knee's Electric Shop will occupy the premises of the present location of the Bolton store. Richard Knee, owner of the shop, at present next door to the Cedar theatre, said he hopes to be in the new location by Dec. 1.

The Cardinal-Kyle building was recently purchased by Dr. Paul H. Guttman, Sacramento.

Mrs. Bolton declined to reveal the terms of the sale.

TEXAS HURRICANES NOT POPULAR WITH ROOKIES

The Tobiassen family received their first letter from their son, David who is stationed at the Lockland Air Field in San Antonio with seven of his former school mates from Nevada City. They are all occupying the same tent but expect to be moved to another air port immediately.

David has been hospitalized twice since he has been in Texas, because of a leg injury he had received playing football while in high school. The intensive marching, and drills have irritated this condition. The boys are not too happy with the heavy storms and the hurricane raging there at present but are taking it in their stride.

$105,000 IS COUNTY SHARE OF ROAD WORK

Nevada county will slice a $105,000 share of new highway construction and rights-of-way budget for 1951-52, according to the California Highway Commission's budget announced Wednesday.

The major share of the allocation will spent for grading and surfacing $90,000 worth of portions of highway 40 in the Donner lake area, and the $15,000 balance is for rights-of-way.

Allocated to Sierra county is $300,000 for grading, surfacing and structures on highway 49 from the Yuba county line to the North Fork bridge.

The total state budget is $101,664,500 for 1951-52.

SCOUT REORGANIZATION MEETING HERE MONDAY

Del Raby, Grass Valley scout executive, will conduct a reorganization meeting of Nevada City Scouts and Scouters at the Nevada City elementary school Monday evening, 7:30 o'clock.

Glade Wise, local cubmaster, will explain cup scouting to the assembly.

Guerdon Ellis, Tahoe national forest supervisor, is recovering from bruises reecived when he was kicked by a forest service mule while on inspection trip in the Big Bend district Sathrday.

CONGRESSMAN ENGLE URGES PRICE CONTROLS

Congressman Clair Engle advocated strongly the immediate invoking of price controls in a talk before the Nevada City Rotary club here yesterday and said it would be more easy at any future date to remove unnecessary controls than to unwind an inflationary spiral.

The ofifcial said he strongly opposed a present administration policy of delaying controls until they are needed.

He said he concurred in the advocacy of immediate controls made recently by Bernard Baruch, economic advisor to adminitsration leaders.

Speaking on the international picture he pointed out that congress today is proceeding under the belief that another world conflict can be avoided by real strength at home and strength within the United Nations.

"Congress admits the danger of war but is working in the belief it can be avoided," the speaker said.

The speaker pointed out that so long as the U. S. has no aggressive intent it must therefore adopt a policy of defense against all possible aggressors.

He described Russian expansion and aggression since World War I as greater than the aggression of Adolf Hitler. He said Communist controlled nations now cover one-quarter of the globe.

Engle said our policy in the Chinese conflict may have been more effectively handled but if we had troops in China engaged in a bloody conflict we might have been incapable of strong military action elsewhere

He described Europe as the proper place to stop the spread of Communism. He described the continent of Europe as the second most productive area in the world.

He urged increased economic and military aid to Europe under a program whereby Europe will also take part in the action, whether economic or military. He also said our propaganda machines in European areas should be strengthened and speeded.

GRASS VALLEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO MEET WITH NEVADA CITY

Members of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce will be invited to next Tuesday's meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce in city hall to discuss possible consolidation of the two chambers to serve the twin communities promotional program, according to Ray J. Spickelmier, president of the local organization.

The step was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Nevada City chamber Tuesday night. Spickelmier explained the projected program will correct a major part of the ineffectual operation of the two chambers in regard to county-wide activities. The chamber official added that the two chambers would each continue to handle seperately its individual problems.

The chamber directorate endorsed a Deer Creek beautification and park program instigated over a year ago by the Nevada City Women's Civic Club. Mrs. Richard R. Goyne, chairman of the club's committee to promote the preject, had suggested the city clean up the area along the creek, locate several picnic spots with benches and tables, and construct a pathway along the creek for a distance of a mile. The directors were unanimous in labeling the area adjacent to the creek as one of the finest potential park and picnic sites in Northern California. I. C. Bell pointed out the project will of necessity have to be suspended until the city's sewage disposal plant is completed and sewage no longer dumped into the creek.

H. F. Sofge, secretary of the chamber, was instructed to write the California Division of Fish and Game and enquired into the possibilities of stocking Deer creek with crawfish.

BLOWING OUR OWN HORN

This week is National Newspaper Week, and we are going to digress this week to thump the tub in our own behalf.

The newspaper has the function of disseminating and recording the passing news of the day, and interpretation and formation of opinions for consideration of readers. To finance that function we have two commodities—advertising space and subscriptions—to sell. Our commodities, steadily widening in scope, helps promote and sustain other local businessmen. In addition, we are in the printing business, dispensing office forms, calendars, match books, and the thousand and one kindred needs of this community.

In its business aspects, the newspaper has entered into one of the most highly competitive fields—advertising. When the newspaper first emerged in the U. S. there was only a Town Crier with whom to compete. Now there are magazines, billboards, radio, television, telephone, and perhaps soon: thought transference.

Through it all, the newspaper goes on doing a job that nothing else can do in quite the same thorough way. Nothing can tie a community together like a well conducted newspaper. Nothing else so well serves as a permanent record of a community's history, or so well keeps a congressman posted on the doings and thinkings of the folks back home. Nothing can take the place of the home town newspaper to the GI overseas. And certainly nothing else can fill a publicity seeker's scrapbook with such satisfying clippings.

And through it all newspapers will continue, building their communities, sticking their newsy noses into local situations and keeping public morals up where they belong.

A newspaper without editorials is like a vacant church pulpit. And we do not mean editorials that urge you to drive carefully, go to the polls next month, go to church regularly, stop beating your wife, be against the eating of young children, endorse fresh air, etc.

Editors of weekly newspapers often claim they are free, that they can write what they like without hindrance. Yet very few of them exercise that right—principally because of fear. Fear of hurting someone's feelings, fear of losing their living if they tread on too many toes; fear of libel.

We of The Nugget are far from satisfied with our newspaper, but we strive to do the best we can with the time and tools available, but we know we contain many of the weaknesses inherent in small newspapers—lack of capital and time. We constantly examine ourselves in an endeavor to straighten out errors of judgment, errors of fact and errors of mere mechanics.

We hope that constant search will be rewarded by constant improvement. To improve is to strengthen the bonds of mutual respect, to enlarge our printing and advertising and circulation business, to cut down the bad days when we stumble. More important than all of these, to improve is to attain a station in this fine Nevada county which the entire family of Nugget readers, advertisers and printers can agree is worthy of the sound aims of the founding fathers who gave us the right to be a free press.

The rank and file of American people who pay the taxes pay little attention to national government. This has encouraged wastefulness to a degree which has become alarming.—Albany, Ore., Democrat-Herald.

LOGICAL CHOICE

Few will begrudge the award of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize to Dr. Ralph Bunche. In view of his outstanding work as mediator in settling the conflict between the Arabs and Jews it would have been almost impossible to overlook him for this honor.

The grandson of an American Negro slave, Dr. Bunche is the first of his race and the eleventh American to receive the Peace Prize which this year amounts to $23,000.

Not only is the award a fitting recognition of his outstanding statesmanship and his devoition to the cause of peace, but it symbolizes the rapid rise of the Negro people of America to positions of greater prominence and responsibility. This rise has been accelerated in recent years as the artificial walls of prejudice have crumbled to a marked degree in the face of the enlightened recognition of the Negro's proper place in the community.

The American people, regardless of their individual national origin, may well feel proud of Dr. Bunche as one of the great citizens of this county and of the world.

The recent fight between Ezzard Charles and Joe Louis recalls a story we once heard about Jim Corbett, the man who fought 18 years in the ring without a black eye or bloody nose. Corbett was preparing for his fight with John L. Sullivan, and Steve Brodie of Brooklyn Bridge fame predicted the champion would knock out the contender in the sixth round. When the news of this reached Corbett's father, the old man bristled and when the two met, the old gentleman sourly said "So you're the man who jumped over the Brooklyn Bridge?" "No," Brodie corrected him, "I didn't jump over it, I jumped off it." The old man snorted, "Humph! I thought you jumped over it; any fool could jump off it."

Sargent's History

The gradual development of the county may be shown by referring to the origin of the various towns that have sprung up in the different years. The only purpose of the settlements at first was mining, though advantages for trade have since developed themselves and given vitality to some towns after profitable mining has ceased in their immediate neighborhood.

The towns which sprang up in 1849 are the more immediate object of this sketch; and we shall merely glance at the others.

Newtown was the earliest settlement in 1850, and was first called "Sailors' Flat," from the fact that the earliest discoveries of gold in the neighborhood, were a company of tars. It never reached to any considerable importance, asd is now nearly deserted. The vote of this place in September, 1855, was 55.

Kentucky Flat dates back to 1850, and was first named by settlers from Kentucky. Several valuable quartz leads have been discovered in the neighborhood, and the diggings have been worked with remarkable profit. There was no precinct at this place at the last election.

Eureka is twenty-six miles from Nevada, in Eureka township, on Poorman's Creek, between the South and Middle Yuba. Mining was first done there in the spring of 1850, in the ravines. The deep diggings were first opened in 1851. The place is badly supplied with water, except in winter. In summer the population is small, but in winter it grows to six hundred or a thousand. Water is expected from the "Memphis Race" in a few months, when the business of the place will materially change for the better. Vote in September, 230.

Woolsey's Flat and Snow Point are benches or flats on a line with Moore's and Orleans Flat, and date back to 1853. They are located near valuable hill diggings and are growing encouragingly, especially the first named. Vote of Woolsey's 55.

French Corral derives its name from an old station erected there in 1849. The first mining was done in a rich ravine, early in 1852. The town was commenced in the spring of 1852. On the 8th of July, 1853, there were seventy houses in the place, fifty of which were destroyed by fire. Little progress was made in building again until May, 1854, when another fire burned the portion of the town that had escaped the previous one. The town has been rebuilt, and is again beginning to prosper. Vote in September, 90.

Sweetland. This place was much noted at an early day as a trading post on the ridge. It was located in the summer of 1856 (obviously a typographical error) by H. P. Sweetland. There are some very good diggings in the immediate vicinity; but not sufficient to cause the construction of a town. Vote in September, 106.

Cherokee in Bridgeport township, took its name from a little stockade hut, built by some Cherokee Indians, who mined there in 1850. The first house built by white men was erected in the winter of 1851, by Crego and Utter. Miners slowly gathered in after this, but the town was not of much importance till June, 1852, when the "Grizzly Ditch Co." introduced the waters of Bloody Run and Grizzly Canyon and Cherokee became of considerable importance, and is now a thriving village, with several good hotels. Vote in September, 295.

Little York—This place sprang up in the spring of 1852. It is situated about twelve miles southeast of Nevada, in Little York township, on the ridge dividing Bear Valley from Steep Hollow, and is on an elevation of about six hundred feet above Bear river. It derived its importance from a lead of gravel running through the hill, richly impregnated with gold. An immense excitement accompanied its first discovery. The lead was discovered by it being intersected in a ravine, forming a deep chasm in its descent to Bear river, from which it was traced to the hill, about one hundred feet lower than the ground on which the town stands. The lead was opened in June, 1852, in a dozen places, whenever water a mile, and miners made $20 a day to the hand, whenever water could be had. The diggings about Little York at the present day are sufficient to keep many miners at work, and the merchants enjoy a considerable trade with miners further in the hills. The "York Mining Co.'s" ditch supplies the neighborhood with water. Vote in September, 66.

Moore's Flat, or Clinton, is situated in Eureka township. It was first occupied by H. M. Moore in 1852. He drove his cattle down onto the bench or flat, after his trip across the plains, and shortly after built a house and store, and engaged in mining. The population slowly increased, as some small ditches were constructed from Poorman's Creek, etc., partially supplying the miners with water. Vote in September, 117.

Orleans Flat—Two miles from Moore's Flat. The mines were discovered in 1852, but the town did not grow much till the following year, when water was brought from Poorman's Creek. It is now one of the liveliest towns in the county. Vote in September, 223.

Alpha—This place was first settled in the fall of 1852. The diggings are worked by hydraulic hose, all hill diggings. It is imperfectly supplied with water, except in winter, when some small ditches give employment to many miners. In the summer it is nearly deserted, and must be until some large ditch introduces the waters of the South Yuba. The vote in September, 1855, was 59.

Omega resembles Alpha in many respects, and is a mile and a half distant from it by rough trail. Ravine diggings were first worked here in 1851, and the hill diggings were opened in 1852. It is located on a section of rich gold-producing ridge, which must ultimately be of great importance. Vote in September, 58.

Last week, I announced the tree new majorettes. Well, this week, I have the complete list. They are Shirley Baker, leader; Roberta Hurst, Marjorie Mendonca, Joanne Godfrey, Gloria Larson, Florence Roberts, Jo Ann and Wanda Dilliard, Meryle Evers, Patsy Humphrey, Barbara Macdonald and Pat Sturtevant.

The new Constitution Revisal committee consists of nine students: Roy Draper, Charles Coombes, Diana Rankin, Wayne Thiessen, David Mott, Gordon Lageson, Sue Moore; Martyna Smith and Doris King.

An assembly was held at 2:45 p.m. Monday in the high school gym by the National Transcribers Society for the Blind in Palo Alto. The students who attended last year remembered the same men, but this year they topped last year's demonstration. All the students were glad to see them back again this year. Among the selections played were "American Patrol" and "Mona Lisa" on the organ; "One Alone" and "Granada" on the piano; "My Happiness," "The Arkansas Boogie No. 1," as duets; "You're Gonna Change or I'm Gonna Leave You," vocal with piano accompaniment; and "Anchors Aweigh." They also played "Under the Double Eagle," on accordions. After their performance here they left for a tour through the Pacific Northwest that will extend until Christmas time.

Letters to The Editor

The views and opinions appearing in this column, Letters to The Editor, are not necessarily those of The Nugget.

Editor, The Nugget,

Much of the success enjoyed by the Nevada City Business and Professional Women's Club in its varying activities was made possible by the excellent publicity you have given us during recent months.

We have been able to increase our scholarship and charity funds substantially through our rummage sales, flower show, and the other events where public support came from full advance reporting.

Many thanks to you and your staff for your support.

Cordially,
MRS. MICHEL LIPMAN,
President, Nevada City Business and Professional Women's Club.
Oct. 4, 1950.

Sir:

Let's imagine the following situation:

Joe Blow doesn't like you. So there's an emergency on, and he goes and whispers a few poisonous words in the ears of the proper official. Presto, you're in a concentration camp, along with a few thousand other sinners.

You want out? Fine! Wait long enough, and you can go before a preliminary hearing officer and prove your innocence. So you come before him, and demand your constitutional right of jury trial.

"Jury trial? Ha! Not in this court, bud. Proceed with your case; make me think you aren't guilty." The officer leans back and pares his nails.

"Okay," you say, "Where are the witnesses against me? Where is the evidence? I want to cross-examine these guys who say I did something."

"Nuh uh, pal," the officer tells you. "Papa don't 'low no cross-examination in here. You might find out something that's top secret. Anyway, I've gone over the evidence already, so why are you beefing? Go ahead now, prove your innocence; we're busy today."

The scene ends as you are being led back to the concentration camp.

"Fantastic," you say. "Why, we don't treat our worst criminals that way. In Russia, sure, among those dirty reds. But over here, we give every man a fighting chance. He gets a jury trial. He has the right to see or hear the evidence against him. He has the right to question opposing witnesses. And any schoolboy knows he has the supreme right of being presumed innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt."

That's where you're wrong, pardner! Under the new anti-red bill just made into law, you can be rounded up and jugged if there is reasonable ground to believe you probably will conspire to commit espionage or sabotage! And once in custody, you'll grow a long white beard until your appeal is heard.

It is not unlikely that our highest court will some day nullify this vicious affront to our established constitutional rights.

We devoutedly hope so!

NAME WITHHELD.

ROTARIANS TOLD THAT MENTAL HEALTH IS EMOTIONAL MATURITY

Mental health is emotional maturity, Mrs. Hazel Fredericksen, former faculty member of University of California, now residing in Nevada City, told a meeting of the Nevada City Rotary club last week at the National hotel.

Mrs. Fredericksen was director of mental health and an instructor on the Berkeley campus, before she retired to Nevada City last spring.

She outlined the growth of the state institutions from the construction of the first mental hospital in Stockton, an institution that has grown from an accommodation of 80 to its present-day capacity of 37,000 patients.

Senility is more of a contributing factor than psychoses to the crowded conditions, Mrs. Fredericksen said.

The speaker pointed out that the state is planning to spend $38,000,000 for expansion and improvement of mental institutions to keep pace with the rapid expansion of the state's population.

Lloyd Geist was the program chairman.

William Tamblyn presided.

WALTER CARLSON TELLS OF EARLY DAY SCHOOLS TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Nevada County Historical Society held its first meeting since the summer, Monday night at Union Hill elementary school in Grass Valley with Walter Carlson, superintendent of Nevada county schools, as speaker of the evening.

Carlson spoke mostly of the first school of the county. In the 1849's the adventurers to the west did not bring their families with them. They did not care to expose their families to the hardships of crossing the plains or the dangers of the trip by water so that by 1851, there were only 200 children in Nevada county. These first four private schools were located in Nevada City which had two, Grass Valley and Rough and Ready.

In 1879 there were nearly 4000 pupils in the schools in Nevada county, nearly 1000 more than in 1949.

In 1851 the first Private school was where the Methodist church now stands. The first public school was erected years later on the property where the Episcopal church is now situated. The Washington school in Nevada City was built in 1859 and enlarged in 1868.

Grass Valley had its first high school which was erected in 1867 at a cost of $7000 had 55 pupils. There were as many as 83 to 90 pupils for one teacher to supervise in those early days. Groups sang the appropriate song "School Days."

A program was offered by eight little Nevada City elementary school children under the direction of William Tobiassen, instructor of music in the Nevada City schools.

Diane and Gay Carter, sisters, sang "I Love My Rooster."

Josephine Kendrick received much praise from the audience when she sang, "Daddy's Little Girl."

"The Blue Tail Fly" was sung by Susan Shaw, Darlene Dilliard, Ann Tamblyn, Sandra Svendson, Janet Haley and Josephine Kendrick. This song caused much merriment in the audience. This group of girls also sang "Down by the Old Mill Stream" with versions.

Bill Tobiassen thought he had offered enough excellent entertainment for the evening with out offering any selections of his own but he was prevailed upon to sing the "Whiffenpoof Song."

Refreshments of warm home made apple pie covered with cheese and excellent coffee was served the members and visitors.

Th next meeting will be in the Nevada City elementary school on Wednesday, Nov. 1 with folk dancing to be part of the program.

ELTON WILLIAMS IS MANAGER FOR SHATTUCK RACE

The campaign for Edward S. Shattuck's election as California's attorney general in the Nov. 7 general elections moved into high gear this week with the appointment of Elton Williams, a prominent Grass Valley civic leader, as Nevada county chairman for the Shattuck campaign.

In accepting the county leadership, Williams said, "There is only one candidate for the office of attorney general who possesses the broad administrative experience, as well as the combination of civil and criminal legal background, required for the office. He is Edward S. Shattuck, who has had 23 years of all-inclusive law experience to qualify him for the position.

"As a veteran of both World Wars and as a public administrator for 11 years over vast governmental programs, Shattuck is expertly equipped to take over the duties as California's chief law enforcement officers and the people's attorney. His opponent, for six and a half years county prosecutor of San Francisco obviously is not qualified to cope with the diversified legal affairs of the state, more than 80 per cent of which are administrative and civil."

The newly-named local leader for Shattuck also pointed out that "Shattuck has consistently gone on record in behalf of California's rights to her water and valuable oil tidelands and natural resources, and has announced that in the matter of local law enforcement he will cooperate, rather than interfere, with county and municipal officers, except where he is requested to lend state asistance on local law enforcement problems."

DAUGHTER OF PIONEER CHINESE PHYSICIAN VISITS SAN JUAN RIDGE

A page from history was recalled to Nevada county in the person of Mrs. Ellen Moon, whose father, Dr. Ho Mow, pioneered to North San Juan from Canton, China during the mining camp days.

Dr. Mow came to treat the hundreds of his fellow countrymen who were working in the camps, and remained to found a mercantile business. After he had returned to China in the last days of his life, the business was taken over by his daughter and son-in-law, and became known as "W. L. Moon and Sons, General Store".

The store sold everything from grain to dynamite and did a brisk business. More gold dust and nuggets passed over the counter in payment for groceries than did minted money.

Thirty-two years ago, as activity ebbed away from North San Juan, the Moons moved to Vallejo with their family and founded the chain of tailoring shops which is still operating by the family and supervised by Mrs. Moon.

She is assisted by her son, Roland, who was born in North San Juan. Her husband, a pioneer merchant in Nevada City, passed away in 1924.

The Moons had eight children, of whom four are living. A daughter, Merle, and her husband, Colonel G. L. Evans of the United States Army, traveled with Mrs. Moon on her trip to Nevada county, her first here in 12 years. Mrs. Evans was born in Nevada City and attended schools here

Now a retired insurance agent in Oakland is Mrs. Moon's son, Francis, a Nevada City native. Mrs. Moon has twelve grand children and four great grandchildren.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways—and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression.

It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving.

Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating.

Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflow Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging heft combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel—and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks—and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube

NEVADA CITY NUGGET

NUGGET SPORTS

YELLOWJACKETS PLAY ROSEVILLE TIGERS TONIGHT

In the manner of football coaches since time immemorial, Coach Tom Nelson of the Nevada City high school Yellowjackets was pessimistically crying the blues about his chances against a big and rough Roseville high school team, scheduled to play the Yellowjackets tonight at the Hennessy field in Grass Valley.

Big blow of the week was the departure from school of Jerry Coleman, first string quarterback of Nelson's T formation. David Mott will be out for two weeks with a bad knee.

Harold Doppelmayr, a tackle, decided to give up the gridiron game, when a recent operation began to bother him.

Nelson has been busy shuffling his small squad all week endeavoring to cover both offense and defense positions.

Jerry Brady, his quarterback, will be defensive safety man. Wayne Thiessen and Joe Griggs will move out of an offensive line position to handle the defensive halfback spots. Fullback Jim Scribner and Substitute Center Fred Benuzzi will back up the line on defense.

Doug Atkins and Kent Walker are defensive wingmen. Derek Thiessen and Don Meisner will play the defensive tackles and Bill Beverage and Gordon Lageson will plug the center of the forward wall.

Nelson will have to scratch and scrape for reserve strength.

The big coach said he has one thing in his favor. His boys are a game bunch of kids and will play their heads off to try to bring home some Tiger meat tonight.

Starting lineups for the varsity game appear elsewhere on this page. The game is slated to start at approximately 8 p.m.

WILD HAMSTERS POTENTIAL MENACE

One and one makes two; and two hamsters on the loose equals trouble for farmers and small game.

The arithmetic problem is presented by the U. S. fish and wildlife service and the California division of fish and game, which have joined to warn California hamster fanciers that release or escape of the little rodents adds up to trouble.

In their native land—the Near East—wild hamsters are highly destructive to crops. One individual hamster is capable of harvesting and storing as much as half a bushel of grain.

While the attractive rodents are popular as pets, they are among the world's fastest and most prolific breeders. Litters of up to 12 or 13 young arrive every 40 days or so.

IMMEL'S CASABA TEAM WINS FIRST LEAGUE TRY

Nevada City high school's C basketball team defeated Placer high school C team 20-8 Tuesday afternoon in the local school basketball court.

Nevada City held its opponents to a half time 10-4 score.

Benny Nelson was high point man for the winners with eight points. Joe Fischer scored seven, Norman Peterson racked up four and Jack Egan grabbed one.

Warren Immel, assisted by Hal Draper coaches the squad.

The squad will play Roseville's C team this afternoon at 3:30 on the local court.

BUILDING PERMITS

Alice Moore, Nevada City, $8,000 pumice block residence, in section 34, west of Lake Vera.

Mattie Delayen, Grass Valley, $850 enlarging living room, Sierra Vista Park.

A. E. Struckman, Truckee, $2,000 frame residence, Donner Pines Tract.

Paul Hanson, Sausalito, $3,500 frame home, Buane Vista subdivision.

Walter Kaetitz, Alameda, $4000 frame summer cabin, Harmony Ridge.

WRAY'S WINNERS

Despite last year's sometimes sorry selection of football winners among the nation's colleges, we'll try it again this year.

We'll have to by-pass hometown loyalty and pick Roseville over Nevada City by three touchdowns despite a game bunch of Tom Nelson's boys.

Pennsylvania's got a bunch of fast sophomores, and Weeping Waldorf still has the towel out, but we'll pick California by 14 points.

Stanford over Oregon State. The boys from the Farm have never beaten OSC in Corvallis, but we think the Indian will break that jinx tomorrow. But wait until next year when our boy, Penrose, is on the varsity.

George Mathis and I weep for the day the Pullman regents decided only college graduates had qualifications to teach at WSC, and the great Babe Hollingberry had to leave. The Trojan by 21 points.

A slam bang beak-bending contest between the Bruins and the Huskies. We'll eeny-meeny-miney-moe on Washington, one point.

Oregon over Montana. These make life easy for peerless prognosticators.

Navy still hasn't enough guns for graduation riddled Northwestern.

North Carolina over Georgia, a close game for two teams trying a comeback.

Oklahoma over Texas Aggies. The Lone Star boys will wish there was a law against Sooners.

Notre Dame over Purdue. So it isn't cricket to choose easy selections. We gotta be right on at least one.

YELLOWJACKETS LOSE TO GALT HIGH 7 TO 6

Nevada City high school Yellowjackets lost their first home game of the 1950 season Friday night 7 to 6 to Galt high school at Hennessy field in Grass Valley.

The Sacramento county school drew first blood in the first quarter with Halfback Walter Case scoring the TD. Fullback J. B. Girard added the winning point.

The Yellowjackets threatened in the second quarter but a bobbled ball on the nine-yard line spoiled the chance.

The Yellowjackets rushed to the Galt 30 yard line in the third quarter. On fourth down a Galt defensive man was guilty of interference on a pass receiver and the Yellowjackets had a first down on the three yard line.

Chuck Degraffenreid slashed off left tackle into the end zone for six points. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete.

Both teams were sluggish in the fourth quarter and neither produced a serious scoring threat.

STEELE IS INDIAN FROSH HOPEFUL

Orlo Steele, 17, 215-pound center and guard candidate from Grass Valley, is a member of the Stanford University freshman grid squad.

The Stanford yearlings, mentored by Bob Ghilotti, have not been defeated since football was revived down on the farm after World War II. The squad is after its fourth successive unbeaten season.

The schedule: Oct. 14, Santa Clara Freshmen at Stanford; Oct. 21, UCLA Freshmen at Los Angeles; Oct. 28, San Jose State Freshmen at Stanford; Nov. 4, Southern California Freshmen at Stanford; Nov. 11, California Freshmen at Stanford.

BONNER'S BEES WHIP GALT GRIDDERS 25-0

Bob Bonner's Bee football team of Nevada City high school continued its winning ways by grinding out a 25-0 victory over the hapless Galt high school gridders Friday night in the preliminary game at Hennessy field.

The Bees displayed no spectacular football relying on short but consistent gains on the ground.

The four TD's were divided by the Nevada City backs. Bill Behrbaum, Bill Sturtevant, Steve Pieser and Bruce Walker chalked up the six pointers.

FAIR MANAGERS SCORE RAIDS ON REVENUES

Managers and directors of seven Mother Lode county fairs, meeting in Grass Valley Tuesday, unanimously adopted a resolution recommending a initiative measure which would prevent other state agencies from staging raids or threatening raids on horse race wagering funds. The money supports the state's county fair program.

Members from Mariposa, Tuolumne, Calaveras, Amador, El Dorado, Placer and Nevada Counties were included.

The resolution was introduced by Carl T. Mills, manager of the Calaveras County Fair in Angels Camp.

Mills pointed out state voters approved horse race wagering in 1932 on condition a percentage of the wagers went to support county fairs, educational institutions and agricultural development and research.

He said, however, in recent years dozens of agencies and departments have sought to raid the fund to an extent that the fair construction and premium programs could be crippled.

The meeting was followed by a dinner at which Congressman Clair Engle, State Senator Harold Johnson of Roseville and Assemblyman Francis Lindsay of Loomis were honor guests.

Loyle Freeman, manager of the Nevada County Fair, presided.

THREE INJURED NEAR NORTH SAN JUAN

Three San Juan ridge youngsters, injured in an automobile accident Sunday night near North San Juan on highway 49 are reported recovering at Miners hospital.

Glen Hughes, 19, North San Juan, was the most seriously injured with severe chest and head contusions. He was unconscious several hours.

James Hughes, 20, his brother, had back injuries that caused a temporary paralysis.

Miss Eva Olsen, 16, Camptonville, suffered internal injuries.

All were passengers in a car operated by Alvin L. Olsen, of Camptonville. The car went out of control on a curve, skidded in loose gravel and overturned.

Excellence of Colusa sandstone as a building material is illustrated by the fact San Francisco's Ferry building, built in 1896, the first use of the Colusa stone, shows inly minor weathering effects today.

MCKNIGHT'S DISCOVERY OF GRASS VALLEY GOLD VIA COW CALLED BUNK

One of Grass Valley's most cherished traditions — the story of George McKnight's discovery of quartz gold while in pursuit of a wandering cow—has been declared without foundation by the Nevada County Historical Society.

The debunking of the story is contained in the centennial edition of the society's monthly bulletin distributed to the members here this week.

The bulletin, published less than a month before Grass Valley will open her three day Gold Quartz Centennial Oct. 27 to 29, says in part:

"There are various versions of the discovery. One says McKnight and two companions were digging for suitable rock for their cabin chimney. Another version indicates they were prospecting. In recent years the version that McKnight struck his foot against an outcropping of rock while chasing his escaped cow is without foundation. None of the first hand accounts mention such a rustic scene."

Attention was focused on the cow yarn in 1927 with the publication of Robert Wells Ritchie's book. "The Hell Roaring 49ers." Although it was written in a humorous vein and drew adverse criticism from some historical bodies for inaccuracies, it started agitation for a marker to commemorate McKnight's discovery.

Meanwhile, however, local centennial officials intend to adhere to the straying cow story. An historic pageant being written contains the cow episode.

Local historians contend many great gold strikes are reputed to have been made while a prospector was seeking a straying burro, hunting rabbits, or searching for a cow. Most of these yarns, they claim, are pure fabrications.
